Teliani Valley

— Kakheti, Georgia

Made from Tsolikouri (tsolee-ko-oo-ree) grapes, harvested from western Georgian vineyards in the Imereti region.

Production

The Imereti region is situated in the foothills of the Caucasus Mountains along the Rioni river. The region's mountainous terrain, sub-tropical climate and stable sunshine hours creates a wine characterised by balanced acidity and a light body. The wine is fermented in stainless steel for 22 days.

Tasting note

Tsolikouri has a light-lemon colour, aromas of green apple, and fruit flavours of grapefruit and pineapple and a mineral rich and refreshing finish.

Food Match

This is a very versatile wine but pairs especially well with salads, Chicken, and chickpea dishes.
