Clos de L'Église, AOP Mâcon-Charnay 2024

FPB92612024

Maison Boutinot

— Burgundy, France

Clos de l'à‰glise hails from the southerly village appellation of Mà¢con-Charnay, just north of Boutinot's Burgundian base in Saint-Vérand. The vineyard has a fantastic south-east facing position sweeping downhill from the front of the Roman village church (Sainte Madeleine) towards the dramatic scenery of the prehistoric site of the Roche de Solutré. It's here that the fruit is grown for this elegant, unoaked Mà¢con-Charnay, a wine that complements our white Burgundy offering.

Production

Sourced from 30-50 year old vines from a single, once walled vineyard, sited next to a church.

Tasting note

This is an elegant, unoaked Mà¢con-Charnay. Ripe citrus notes on the nose, with a complex palate which balances baked apple and some fresh florals and a gently herbaceous and mineral streak.

Food Match

Ideal with a puff pastry chicken pie, or with roast belly pork.
