Bodegas Naia

— Rueda, Spain

A beautifully tropical expression of Sauvignon Blanc from Bodegas Naia's Rueda vineyards.

Production

Grapes are grown on soil composed of calcareous clays over which lie superficial layers of sandy-clay soil mixed with cobbles. Mediterranean continental climate with dry, cold winters, hot summers and a contrast of temperatures between night and day during the last summer months. The winemaking methods followed are designed to fully maintain the qualities of the grapes obtained in the vineyard and decades of careful work ensures that Sauvignon Blanc has become acclimatised to the unique terroir of Rueda.
