Peter Lehmann

— Eden Valley, , Australia

Sourcing from super premium Riesling blocks results in a wine with intensity of flavour and minerality, this is classic Eden Valley Riesling.

Production

Sourced from the super premium Riesling block of long-term growers Ben Wroxton and William 'Bunga' Hurn, located at the northern and central sections of the Eden Valley respectively. These vineyards possess all the hallmarks of classic Eden Valley Riesling sites – high altitude, shaly, schisty soil and sparse yet adequate canopy ensuring the fruit remains in optimum condition throughout ripening.

The grapes were picked in the cool of the early morning and transported immediately to the winery. The fruit was crushed, chilled and drained from the skins, with free-run juice separated as soon as possible. Juices were fined and cold settled before gently racking off settled solids. Fermentation takes place in stainless steel tanks using a neutral yeast strain to preserve and promote the pristine natural fruit flavours. Following a steady two week fermentation, the wine was clarified and bottled to retain freshness and purity.

Tasting note

Bright and tangy with a nose of freshly picked limes, lemon meringue and lifted floral aromas. The palate shows great fruit purity with a juicy natural acid line. Lots of citrus flavours intertwined and a waxy minerality. Slight fruit sweetness balances the acidity and allows for good length on the finish.

Food Match

Serve lightly chilled. A wonderful accompaniment to squid or charcoal roasted scallop tortellini with creamy bacon scallion glaze.
