Kloster Eberbach

— Rheingau, Germany

Pinot Noir has been cultivated at the Eberbach monastery for centuries, the vines believed to have been brought from Burgundy by the Cistercian monks.

Production

The Pinot Noir grapes are selected from vineyards in the villages of Rudesheim and Assmannshausen. After fermentation in stainless steel, the wine is matured in 1,200 and 2,400 litre oak barrels for around 12 months.

Tasting note

Brightly perfumed notes of ripe bramble and wild strawberry with a touch of liquorice. Concentrated on the palate with with red berries, a pleasingly tart freshness and supple tannins make this a great introduction to Pinot Noir from Rheingau.
