San Felice

— Toscana, Italy

This is a Chianti Classico with character that embodies the soul of San Felice - Sangiovese and Pugnitello combine to create a fragrant, vibrant and authentic representation of their distinctive terroir. Borgo means village - a map of the village that's home to San Felice is represented on the label.

Production

The grapes are cultivated in the vineyard closest to San Felice's cellars in Castelnuovo Berardenga - so close that the grapes are transported to the cellar by hand. The blend is primarily Sangiovese (80%) with a little Pugnitello and some other indigenous varieties added. Vinification of each variety takes place separately, in stainless steel, for around two weeks. Then the wine spends around 12 months in large Slavonian oak casks before bottling.

Tasting note

Black fruit aromas with floral hints and spicy notes from oak ageing. The palate has bramble and fresh black cherry flavours, integrated oak characters, smooth and supple tannins and juicy acidity. With a notable fresh and lifted finish.
