Decanter World Wine Awards Silver 2024

Production

Made in the usual Wild House fashion, 'lazy winemaking' as JD calls it. The grapes, from a single vineard in Paarl, are gently crushed and naturally fermented, with no additions. 80% in tank, 20% in older French oak barrels. Partial malolactic fermentation. This is followed by 6 months ageing on fine lees.

Tasting note

A fresh, expressive nose with bright citrus and stonefruit aromas combining with hints of subtle, spicy oak. The palate is ripe and textural, the bright fruit balanced by fresh acidity and savoury notes from long lees ageing and a proportion of barrel fermented wine.

Food Match

Highly versatile, a variety of fish, vegetable and white meat dishes.
