Adria Vini

— Sicilia, Italy

Sicily's warm, dry climate is ideal for organic cultivation, so is a great source of good, affordable organic wines. The Da Vero wines ('davvero' meaning 'really' or 'naturally' in Italian) are the result of our long relationship (over 15 years) with a cooperative in Sicily, who we have been working with since our Sicilan project began.

Production

The Nero d'Avola grapes are sourced from the area around Salemi (Province of Trapani) in the north-west tip of Sicily. The vines are Guyot-trained, and grown at around 250m altitude on a combination of soil types. The vineyards were converted to organic viticulture in 2007. The grapes are macerated on the skins for 8-12 days, then racked and allowed to complete malolactic fermentation.

Tasting note

Aromas of ripe black fruit with a hint of spice. Rustic and savoury on the palate with rich plum and bramble fruit alongside herbal notes. The soft tannins are balanced by fresh acidity.

Food Match

Rich pasta dishes, casseroles and grilled meats
