Les Iris, AOP Beaujolais 2023

FPB91062023

Maison Boutinot

— Beaujolais / Macon, France

As delightful to the palate as the countryside is to the eyes, Beaujolais can only come from one of the most picturesque 'quartiers' of France: home-grown in the valleys and hills folded between Màçcon and Lyon in central eastern France.

Production

Gamay vines used for this wine are grown on the slopes of the rolling Beaujolais hills. By selecting from different producers with individual preferences - press whole bunches or de-stem; allow full or semi-carbonic maceration - we are able to to bring particular elements together in the blend to make what we consider to be a classic Beaujolais.

Tasting note

Bright and lively red, this youthful, juicy Beaujolais has plenty of lifted red fruit. Crushed red berries on the palate with floral notes and a dusting of allspice.

Food Match

Enjoy on its own, or drink it as the locals do, lightly chilled as an apéritif with country pàçté or roasted chicken.
