On Line Deal Price £52 A signature Aussie wine from one of the great Semillon producers. The Latara vineyard has natural grace and power, a site simply demanding a single vineyard release such as this wine.

Production

This single vineyard on Deasys Road, Pokolbin was established in 1978 on volcanic, clay and limestone soils. The site has a gentle rise with a Western aspect, providing plentiful sunlight for consistently outstanding fruit. This vineyard was purchased by Keith Tulloch Wine in 2018 as it was proven to express the zesty characters of great Hunter Valley Semillon. Latara Semillon grapes were hand-picked, destemmed and then pressed in late January, before fermentation in a stainless steel tank.

Tasting note

Aromatically the wine has signature Semillon perfumes of lemongrass, lime and wet stone. On the palate, chalky, zesty intensity is layered with the bold flavour of lemon, green apple and sherbert, finishing with a softness and length of white melon and lime.

Food Match

Perfect with light and delicate fish dishes, prawns and freshly shucked oysters.
