A delicate free run Rosé of serious quality from a 30 year old bush-vine vineyard in Paarl, whose fresh, flinty bite offsets the gentle, finely-honed fruit.

Production

A Wildeberg wine begins life when we fall for a specific vineyard. The next step is simply expressing that place. In this case we fell upon a block of organically-farmed, dry-grown bush-vine Cinsault grown on the Agter-Paarl's mineral seams. The fruit was picked at a ripeness optimal for this rosé's natural acidity, in the cool of dawn and trucked up the road to Wildeberg.

Tasting note

A pale, delicate and light Rosé. Bright, pure red fruits are complemented by a deftly creamy mouthfeel and an intensity that belies its naturally lighter alcohol level.

Food Match

Drink chilled on its own or serve with fresh seafood, a quinoa and pomegranate salad or herb marinated grilled chicken tenders.
