Italian Plastic

— South Australia, Australia

A rosy cheeked Ramato renaissance. Let's kiss and makeup. A sip with a smile that would leave even kings and queens feeling flush. BLUSH now, but flattery will get you far. A floral flirt well versed in tomfoolery. Putty in the palm of your hand, so while we're there why not take a taste?

Production

Forever relevant thanks to its never ending flexibility, Blush Ramato is powered by Pinot Grigio, fermented on skins for three weeks to draw out soft peach and pear with a hint of pepper. Sandy loam over schist bedrock soils set up an elegant structure - cellar this one happily for up to ten years. Aged in old hogsheads.

Tasting note

Peach, pear, earl grey and persimmon on the nose. Watermelon, apricots and marmalade on the palate.
