Gradis'ciutta

— Friuli, Italy

Winemaker Robert Princic puts his heart and soul into this expressive blend of Chardonnay, Pinot Grigio, Sauvignon and Riesling grapes - an elegant and refined white from the Collio region

Production

A blend of Pinot Grigio, Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc and Riesling grapes - the vines grow at 120-220 metres altitude, cultivated in the Ponca soil typical of the Friuli region (a combination of marl and sandstone with marine fossils).The grapes are harvested quite late for optimum ripeness, then they undergo a soft pressing and temperature-controlled fermentation in stainless steel. The wine ages on the lees for a minimum of 18 months before bottling, then spends a further year in bottle before release.

Tasting note

Distinct and pronounced aromas of ripe pear and apricot characters alongside hints of fennel. The palate is elegant and textural with bright acidity, stone fruit characters and a long, mineral finish. A beautifully integrated blend.
